

ROCKFORD MAIN STREET SCENE OF GANG MURDER

DAMAGES IN CONDEMNATION SUIT FIXED

Motions Of I. N. U. Co. Sustained By Co. Judge Leach

A case of considerable interest to farmers in Lee, Ogle and Stephenson counties came to an end in the County Court of Lee County yesterday afternoon when a jury brought in a verdict for $210 for Reuben W. Eicholtz as damages to his farm as a result of the erection of a transmission line by the Illinois Northern Utilities Company. This case has been watched with much interest by the Farm Bureaus in their respective counties and by the farmers living along the line who claimed that they were damaged greatly in excess of the amount the company was willing to pay.

As near as can be learned the facts in these cases are: The Illinois Northern Utilities Company, desiring to build its transmission line, agreed to build it as near as possible on the adjoining fence lines of the farmers over whose land its line will run, taking fifty feet off the outside edge of each farm. The Company asks for what is known as an easement or right to pass on and over these fifty foot strips for the purpose of erecting its poles, building its line and thereafter patrolling the same. The land owner is permitted to farm his lands and has the joint use of the property in connection with the Company. He is, however, forbidden the right to erect buildings or permit the growing of trees on the fifty foot strip which would interfere with the line. In the Eicholtz case the Company proposed to erect four steel towers some four hundred feet apart along the east line of the Eicholtz land.

Claimed Great Damage
Mr. Eicholtz was represented by D. W. Kirkpatrick of Chicago and H. C. Warner of this city; they filed what is known as a cross petition in which he claims that the whole of Eicholtz farm was damaged and offered testimony to the effect that the farm was damaged $10 per acre as a whole in addition to the damage to the fifty foot strip.

After the testimony was all in, the Illinois Northern Utilities Company, by its attorneys, Dixon, Devine, Bracken & Dixon, filed a motion asking the Court to hold as a matter of law that there was no damage to Mr. Eicholtz's farm outside of the fifty foot strip and it was about this matter that there was a bitter and strenuous conflict. Judge William L. Leach, Judge of the County Court of Lee County, basing his opinion on what he said was the holding of the Supreme Court of the State of Illinois, held as a matter of law that there was no damage to the Eicholtz farm outside of the fifty foot strip and withdrew from the jury all consideration of damages outside of the strip.

Consideration Limited
The Illinois Northern Utilities Company, by its attorneys, further moved the Court to withdraw from the jury all consideration of damages based on such elements as danger to persons and livestock; the objection of possible buyers of the land; objection of possible tenants for the land; the possibility that patrolmen would leave open gates and break down fences; that the Illinois Northern Utilities Company would permit weeds to grow around the poles or towers erected; that machinery might be injured; and that the patrolmen might climb over and break down fences; and cited authorities of the Supreme Court holding that all of these kinds of damages are remote and speculative and not proper to be considered in these kind of cases. The Court granted the motion and

GREAT FLEET OF AIRPLANES WILL SPEND HOUR IN DIXON ON STATE JAUNT WEDNESDAY

Plans Made for Reception of Chamber Of Commerce Tour

Next Wednesday afternoon the largest fleet of airplanes which has ever visited Dixon will be assembled at the Dixon Municipal Airport for one hour. Workmen are placing the field in first class condition for the reception of the fleet, attaching a wind-cone to the signal tower, repainting the border markers, and preparing the central landing marker in the center of the field. Mayor Frank D. Palmer and members of the city council will be at the field when the planes arrive, the mayor making an address of welcome.

The occasion marks the second Illinois Chamber of Commerce air tour which starts from Chicago on Wednesday morning, August 20 and concludes August 23 after a visit to the principal air ports of the state. It is expected that there will be not less than 25 planes of various types from the small racing planes to the mammoth tri-motored passenger planes in the fleet. The local airport is in the best condition at present that it has been since its opening and it is expected that thousands will be present to welcome the air tourists. Plans were being made today to have the Dixon Boys' Band present on the field to welcome the fliers. Sheriff Ward Miller will have a force of deputies on the field to prevent the assemblage from gathering too close to the planes when they arrive and on their departure.

The schedule for the second tour provides that the air fleet take off from the Curtiss-Reynolds field in Chicago at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning and arriving at Elgin at 9 o'clock where the fleet will remain for one hour; leaving at 10 o'clock for DeKalb where they are scheduled to arrive at 10:30, leaving at 11:30 for Rockford where luncheon will be served at noon. The fleet will leave Rockford at 1:30 in the afternoon, arriving at Dixon at 2 o'clock and leaving at 3. Members of the aviation committee of the local Chamber of Commerce will accompany the tour to Moline where the first night stop will be made.

'RUBBER' CHECK ARTIST CAUGHT HERE THURSDAY

Refuses To Give Name Or Address: Held To Grand Jury

A stranger giving the name of J. L. Scott, address unknown, attempted to pass a check for $25 at a local place of business yesterday afternoon in payment for an auto tire and tube and succeeded, but a few minutes later the clerk who made the sale and followed the stranger, took him back to the store. On investigation the clerk decided that check was worthless and summoned an officer.

Last evening, Scott, who admits that this is not his right name, was held to the September grand jury under bonds of $2,000 in default of which he was sent to the county jail, where he was held before Justice J. O. Shaulis in police court. Police found a large number of blank checks, one of which were filled out ready to be passed, together with business cards, in the stranger's possessions. He admitted to the police that he had the cards and checks printed in Rockford and said that he would not divulge his right name or home address, adding that he was married and was the father of two children, who he did not wish to suffer for his wrong doings.

MISS MARY EVELYN MILLER PASSED AWAY LAST NIGHT AFTER ILLNESS OF OVER MONTH: FUNERAL SUNDAY

Mary Evelyn Miller, only daughter of Mrs. Frances Miller, 622 N. Ottawa ave., passed away last night at an East Moline hospital, after an illness of over a month, during which time the interest and hopes of her host of friends were centered in her critical condition; and while it had been known for several days that there was practically no chance for her recovery, the news of her death is nevertheless a severe shock to all who knew her.

Funeral services will be held at the home of Mrs. Miller's brother, William Fisher, at Anamosa, Ia., on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and a number of Dixon people, including Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Richardson and

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kested and daughter Esther, plan to attend. Miss Miller, who for some time was office manager for the T. J. Miller agency and later continued in the same position in the Graybill agency, was one of Dixon's most popular young women. Vivacious, charming and radiating happiness and cheer she easily made friends in large numbers; a fact clearly attested by the many expressions of sincere sorrow heard when she was stricken with the illness which terminated fatally last night. The heartfelt sympathy of the entire community goes out to the widowed mother whose only child has been taken from her.

Some Oddities In Wire News Today From Various Parts

SALTIS TURNS ANGLER

Winter Wis., Aug. 15—(UP)—Joe Saltis, ex-Chicago beer baron, turned summer resort operator, got three of his dude guests into difficulties by taking them on a fishing excursion within 50 feet of a dam. There's a state law against it and Saltis was fined $50 and costs yesterday. The guests also were fined.

WANTED JOB: FAILED

St. Louis, Aug. 15—(AP)—Joseph Blaise's plan of solving his own unemployment situation landed him in jail last night. WANTS PISTOL BACK

Knoxville, Tenn., Aug. 15—Rebe Hightower asked police today to return to her the pistol with which she killed her husband, so she could sell it and use the money toward buying a tomb stone. Hightower was slain in a quarrel with his wife. A grand jury failed to indict her, although she admitted the killing.

Under Tennessee law a pistol cannot be returned to the person from whom police have taken it.

PLAYED PAR GAME

Chicago, Aug. 15—(UP)—Adolph Kurdtz had a "get rich quick" scheme that worked perfectly until Policeman Alexander Hefferen learned about it. Hefferen charged today. Kurdtz, the policeman charged, hired half a dozen small boys to steal golf balls driven off the tees of the Jackson Park course.

The idea was, Hefferen charged, that Kurdtz paid the boys ten cents each for the balls, then sold them back to the golfers for 25 cents each. The scheme did not end there, however, according to the officers' charges—for each evening Kurdtz called all his boys into secret session, shot craps with them and won back all the dimes he had given them, giving him a clear profit of 25 cents on each ball.

ONE FOR SHERLOCK

Springfield, Vermont, Aug. 15—(UP)—George J. Packard arrived here today with his bride of a month, prepared to help solve the puzzle of the reappearance of his first wife a year after she was believed to have committed suicide.

Packard, under preliminary questioning by State's Attorney Lawrence C. Edgerton and State Detective Edwin C. Brown, declared there had been no doubt in his mind that the body of the young woman buried at Chester, eight miles from here, was that of his wife, Catherine, 22. Authorities did not question the young husband further immediately but he was expected to tell his complete story of the strange case later in the day.

Packard spent the morning at the Adnabrown hotel where until last night his first wife had been under arrest as a material witness since being located earlier this week at Manchester, N. H.

"Mad" Dogs Become More Prevalent

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 15—(UP)—A warning to the effect that there has been a decided increase in the prevalence of "mad" dogs in the state, was issued by the State Department of Public Health here today. Numerous persons have been bitten by dogs during the last few weeks and two deaths have been reported. Damage to livestock has been considerable during the same period, according to the Department's report.

"Keep alive the dog that bites a person and put him under observation of a veterinarian," Dr. Andy Hall, State Health Director has advised. Laboratory examinations of a dog's head, valuable as they are, cannot always be relied upon to give unqualified evidence of the presence or absence of rabies, he said.

HOWELL'S SPEED BOAT DEVELOPS UNUSUAL POWER

Dixon-Designed Craft Made 40 Miles Per Hour In Tests

Hubert Howell yesterday afternoon completed his first successful test of his new speed launch, "Miss Dixon" which was launched last Sunday morning, and made a record run from the pier to Lowell Park in seven minutes flat, which is said to be a record for speed on the local waters. The builder of the speed launch is completing other adjustments and will probably lower his record Sunday in a series of test trips over the Lowell Park racing course.

Hubert began work on the building of the fire launch early in June, building the launch along plans of his own drafting suited to the channels of the Rock River and he worked out the power system which has been installed. The boat is equipped with a V-type eight cylinder Sturdevant motor which on its test run developed a speed of 40 miles an hour. The builder of the speed launch expects to be able to better this by an additional five or seven miles as soon as necessary adjustments have been made. The motor is equipped with a compressed air starter and the entire boat is constructed along lines of racing craft of the lake design.

On the first speed trip, the bronze propeller was twisted off the shaft, by the motor. A larger propeller being of sufficient size to conform to the amount of power developed with a greater speed and durability capacity was given a successful trial this morning.

Mr. Howell expects to experiment with the "Miss Dixon" for the remainder of the summer and during next winter will make necessary changes by which he hopes to attain a speed of not less than 50 miles per hour. Several of his friends, who have watched closely for weeks the progress on the building of the speed launch, have enjoyed thrilling rides in the craft.

COUNTY AND STATE HELP DECIDED ON

Where Necessary Federal Agencies Will Be Ready To Assist

Washington, Aug. 15—(AP)—The stupendous task of building up a network of state and county relief organizations to tide drought-stricken families over the winter, save livestock and prevent the spread of disease, today was under way.

Governors and representatives of the thirteen states most seriously affected by the prolonged dry weather headed homeward to carry out the program agreed upon yesterday at President Hoover's conference. In each state where conditions warrant a drought relief committee will be set up, headed by a leading citizen and including a state agricultural official, banker, Red Cross representative, railroad representative and farmers.

This committee is to create in each affected county a group of similar composition. The county units will receive applications for relief, supplying locally all possible, passing the others on to the state groups. Relief needs reaching beyond state resources will in turn be passed on to a Federal committee set up by the President, comprising representatives of the Department of Agriculture, the Farm Loan Board, Red Cross, American Railway Association and Public Health Service.

This group will work with the state committees also in providing credit for purchasing feed and seed, moving livestock to pasturage and other large scale tasks. Guarding human suffering, the Red Cross will set up its own committees in each county, with the chairman of each represented on the county relief committees. The Red Cross has already allocated $5,000,000 for this work, pending determination of the actual need.

As a further measure, states which have surplus feed, such as Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas, are to set up groups to cooperate with the relief committees of states with surplus livestock, bringing the two together.

Federal Committee

Meanwhile, the Department of Agriculture was assigned to study possible employment aids by advancing this fall next year's state road allotments in the drought areas.

Today a conference between President Hoover and the heads of the agricultural and finance agencies was to consolidate the government's program in the relief move.

287,000 Need Feed

Yesterday Secretary Hyde placed before the Governors a bundle of sheets analyzing by counties the reports of his Department's agents from ten states. They showed a total of more than 287,000 families to supply feed to their livestock.

The agents' reports on conditions, cut down to single sentences, were listed next to columns on figures on estimated crop damage; amount of winter feed needed; how long the feed on hand would last and the number of families in need. Damage estimates of 60, 70, 80 and 90 per cent ran all through, with the 100 mark of total destruction occurring all too frequently.

Many agents reported exhaustion of the county finances and some told of conditions approaching panic. In poorer counties of some states the starving of livestock was mentioned. Kentucky and Arkansas showed worst conditions, with Missouri, West Virginia and Mississippi showing communities unable to get through the winter without outside aid. The other states reported on were Illinois, Ohio, Nebraska, Kansas and Louisiana.

Late last night Hyde expressed confidence in the success of the relief program in a radio address. He placed the number of sufferers from the drought at millions and said tens of thousands had lost all they had. He again reassured his audience that no general shortage existed of human food and expressed hope that proper local authorities would take action to prevent profiteering.

BULLETIN

London, Aug. 15—(UP)—The Air Ministry received a message late today that the steamer Cameron reported the R-100 seventy miles south southwest of 53:58, north, 27:07 west, at 3:11 o'clock G. M. T. (10:11 a. m. E. S. T.).

This position would put the airship almost 700 miles southwest of Eris Head, Ireland.

Atmospheres were very bad, the Ministry announced.

ESCAPED STORM

Aboard R-100, Aug. 15—(AP)—This dirigible, bound for England, during the night escaped what appeared to be a terrific storm.

Thursday evening's sunset was accompanied by dark clouds which shortly after filled the sky. The temperature dropped and there was every indication of the setting in of a furious atmospheric disturbance.

The dirigible descended almost precipitately 1,000 feet, and just in time managed to clear the storm zone. A heavy rain followed, but the airship maintained good speed and all is well.

Passengers were loud in praise of the officers' skillful navigation of the ship.

FORCED TO CUT SPEED

Aboard the Dirigible R-100, Aug. 15—(UP)—The dirigible R-100, encountering less favorable weather conditions than on the early stages of the return flight to England, made steady progress today over the rain-spattered Atlantic ocean.

Holding steadily to its course along the 53rd parallel, the trans-Atlantic ship was handicapped by clouds and rain across the ocean and was forced to cut its fast pace to about 50 miles an hour.

The crew was straining to obtain the best speed of which the R-100 is capable on the over-water flight of less than 2,000 miles and officers of the ship were confident that the temporary rain clouds would not prove a handicap.

With the ship progressing steadily more than 600 miles out from Belle Island around midnight EST., only favorable weather was needed to assure a record-breaking flight to Cardington that would surpass the speed mark of the Graf Zeppelin across the Atlantic.

Reporters' Mistake

Any tension that might have existed on board the ship was broken by newspapermen who were anxious to show the crews that they had

BOOTLEGGERS KILLED FROM PASSING CAR

Gangland's Sinister Shadow Spreading Over Midwest

Chicago, Aug. 15—(AP)—The sinister shadow of gangland spreads over the middle west. Three dead near St. Paul, Minn., another dropped by machine gunners at Rockford, Ill., and new slayings at Detroit and Chicago add weight to the belief that the hoodlum element is scattering.

The first tangible evidence that organized outlaws is seeking new territories for its rackets, liquor, gambling and vice, is the usual symbol of the gangsters—a bullet pierced body, shot from behind.

The latest victim was Joe Giovinco, Rockford bootlegger, killed instantly by a stream of bullets that poured from an automobile speeding through one of the town's main streets last night. Eleven bullets were fired into Giovinco's body, but police felt sure they were intended for Tommy Abbott, well known Chicago gangster, who stood nearby.

Intended for Another

Abbott, described by police as one of the chief executioners for the Moran gang, was one of the many suspects in two of Chicago's recent gang killings—the slaying of Jake Langille, Tribune reporter, and the subsequent killing of Jack Zuta, vice overlord.

Of the three men killed near St. Paul Wednesday night, two, Sammy Stein and Frank Coleman, were positively identified as bank robbers, and the third was believed to be Mike Rusick, a member of the same band. Police knew little of their recent activities, however, and could only guess at the motive for the assassinations.

The theories ranged all the way from the conjecture that the robbers had quarrelled over division of their loot to the belief that they interfered with an attempt on the part of the Chicago gang leader, George "Bugs" Moran, to organize the Twin City area.

Were Bank Robbers

All three of the men were believed to have been members of a gang operating in Kansas City, Minneapolis and other cities. Officers of a William, Minn., bank yesterday identified two of the bodies as those of members of a robber gang that held up the bank July 15, took $142,000 and shot two passersby in making their getaway.

Little progress was made by Chicago authorities investigating the slaying Wednesday night of Danny Vallo, St. Valentine's Day massacre suspect. The chief witness at the inquest, a girl who was with the gunman when he was killed, said she could not see the killers who fired from ambush and that she knew of no reason for the killing.

Detroit's latest gang slaying, the fatal shooting of Cleo Mangapani, alleged river liquor operator, was added to 14 others for a special grand jury to consider. Mangapani was killed Wednesday night in an automobile.

MOON CALL

THE moon is lighting a winding road
Flung far with jeweled spray.
And the moon, the wind, and a shining star
Are luring me away.

I thought to live in the city street,
But I can stay no more;
Moonbeams are calling me to the

Where the waves beat on the shore.

The moon is lighting the road again,
And what can I do but go?
The wanderlust is hard at my feet
For the ways I used to know.

To save your towels, you can now get wide rolls of dainty, colorful, absorbent tissue paper.

They are especially nice for guest rooms, as they can be used to remove cold cream, lipstick and other aids that are apt to ruin your good towels.

In the kitchen, they save your tea towels and the front of your apron for you can wipe your hands off on them. You can get them white for the kitchen and colored for bedrooms and the bathroom.

Girl Pilots Demand Equal Rights With Men

Reminiscent of the fight for women's right to vote is the controversy between officials of the National Air Races, to be held soon at Chicago, and some of the nation's fairest flyers who demand an equal rating with aviators of the sterner sex. The women declared the air meet committee's action in ordering them to fly low-powered planes and providing them with escort planes for the women's race from Los Angeles to Chicago is misdirected chivalry. The aviatrixes point out that many of them are better pilots than some of the men contestants and they want equal rights. Some concessions already have been made. Pictured here are: Ruth R. Nichols, extreme left; Gladys O'Donnell, center above; Bobbie Trout, extreme right, and Jean La Rene, Elinor Smith and Blanche Wilcox Noyes, left to right, below.

Wawokiye Club in All Day Meeting

The Wawokiye club met at the home of Mrs. Arthur Hoban, August 14, in an all-day meeting.

After a most delicious chicken and noodle dinner the business meeting was held.

After all joining in singing a hymn the minutes of the last meeting and roll call were given. The members of the club voted to send for new song books and it is probable that they will be here for the next meeting.

There was no further business so the meeting was closed with a hymn and prayer. The next meeting will be held in two weeks at the Pines.

All members are urged to attend this picnic and if they have no way to go are asked to call the president, Mrs. Edward Johnson, who will try to find cars enough for all to go. Everyone left late in the day, thanking Mrs. Hoban for her hospitality.

Mrs. Gann Answers 'Bids' Personally

Washington — (A.P.)—Mrs. Edward Everett Gann has taken care of all social engagements for her brother, the vice-president, herself and husband during the past busy season.

She has written personal notes of acceptance or regret and a telephone call from her often reminds the vice-president, busy at the capitol, of a dinner or luncheon date.

She is now preparing to reopen the Gann home in Cleveland Park for at least a part of the summer while the vice-president is busy at his home in Topeka, Kansas.

Anniversary Dinner And Bridge Enjoyed

Mrs. J. M. Batchelder entertained eight guests at a beautifully appointed dinner Wednesday evening honoring her daughter-in-law, Mrs. J. K. Batchelder, as it was the latter's wedding anniversary. Lovely garden flowers graced the table and the rooms of the home. Mrs. Batchelder's son, J. K. Batchelder, was out of the city and could not be present. After dinner the happy evening was completed in playing bridge. Mrs. J. K. Batchelder won the favor for high honors, and Mrs. Gordon Ulley received the consolation favor.

YOUR CHILDREN

What every mother needs to do is to get a perspective of her children, a bird's eye view, so to speak.

We are so close to our families, so wrapped around with every day affairs, enmeshed by a tangle of trivial incidents in summer, that we lose sight of bigger things.

Vacation time with the children home from school, the heat cracking everyone's disposition and the thousand and immediate demands on a mother's time and patience may seem to some an inauspicious time for reconsidering. Why check up on behavior and dispositions while the children are running wild? Better wait until they are all in harness again! I don't agree. The disorganization of vacation has had time by now to produce results. Moreover, children off schedule and out of school proceed instantly to experiment on their own impulse, and they need a little help.

Freedom Is Important
I am all for letting theme experiment, permitting them to match up their wills and wits against their playmates without the restraint of the routine they are under during the year. They need it. Probably they develop in summer, more than in all the other months put together. They need the experience of freedom from too much supervision.

But the bad develops with the good and the weeding out process should be begun. By this time Bobby's mother can tell pretty well just what his freedom has done to him. Or Betty's parents can check up on her and think over the recent behavior of their small daughter.

I think we should step back and think over quietly, carefully and as dispassionately as possible about these children of ours.

Why are there so many quarrels? Why is Bobby so irritable? Why does Betty cry so much? Why has Junior turned hermit and refused to go out to play any more?

We're so likely to blame it on the themselves in hot weather.

It's Not Just Weather
If the truth were known ninety-nine cases out of a hundred of these summer quarrels and upsets, and the unhappiness of children does not come from weather at all, but from themselves. They've been on their own with life and the contacts are wearing them out.

Try to change their friends from time to time if you can. Bobby may be cross because he is resentful of an overbearing companion he has been seeing too much of. Betty may cry because her chum gives her a feeling of inferiority and futility. Junior may be shy because he's been playing with older boys who ridiculed him when he failed to make good in their games.

On the other hand, Hector may be getting bossy and selfish because he was smarter and stronger-willed than the rest of his crowd and he can't stand uncontrolled prosperity.

If we try to see our children as other people see them it would give us the key to our remedy closet.

Sugar-Loaf Motif New Jewelry Note

Paris — (A.P.)—Sugar-loaf earrings are a costume jewelry novelty taken up by one of the well-known dress-makers here.

The usual forms are single crystal cubes hung by slender silver chains or squares of four smaller cubes strung together with beads. The triangle form is also seen. The same pendent cubes appear on bracelets. Sportswomen frequently wear leather wristlets with pendent cubes of bright enamel or ivory.

MRS. HOOVER WORKS PUZZLES FOR RELAXATION

Washington (A.P.)—Mrs. Herbert Hoover finds entertainment in solving jug-saw puzzles when seeking relaxation. The tiny bits of wood or card board helped pass the time while she was recovering from a wrenched back.

Hors D'Oeuvres Jog Jaded Appetites

By ETIENNE ALLIO, Chef, Hotel New Yorker, New York City

NOTHING can contribute more to assure the success of the meal, whether it be a formal or informal repast, than a hors d'oeuvre, skillfully prepared, of carefully selected ingredients to insure their freshness, and served in a manner to appeal to the eye as well as to the appetite.

Whether the hors d'oeuvre be hot or cold, its chief purpose is, of course, to act as an appetizer and this it can do as much by its appearance as by its taste, for there is a full measure of truth in the old saying, "The eye does half the eating." The portions should be small, merely large enough to stimulate the appetite, without any danger of dulling the diner's zest for the dishes that are to follow.

Vienna Hors d'Oeuvre—Simmer calves liver until very tender. Chop fine and rub to a paste. To one cup of liver add one tablespoon melted butter, one-half teaspoon sugar, salt and pepper to taste, and enough thick tomato sauce to make the mixture of the right consistency to spread. Lightly toast strips of graham bread about four inches long and an inch and a quarter wide. Spread with the paste. Garnish with a border of chopped whites of hard-boiled egg and the rice yolk. Serve cold.

Clams in Nest (Individual)—Halve a grapefruit, remove the pulp, and fill with shaved ice. Place a small glass in the center for the sauce. Place five small clams on the half shell on the ice. For the sauce mix one tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, one tablespoon vinegar, and one tablespoon tomato ketchup. Add two tablespoons lemon juice, one-half teaspoon sugar, one-fourth teaspoon tabasco, and one teaspoon salt. Chill by placing sauce in the glass a sufficient time before serving.

Southampton Hors d'Oeuvre—Scoop out the stem ends of six whole, firm tomatoes, leaving a cone-shaped cavity. Sprinkle with pepper, salt, and a little sugar. Fill with butter. Bake in a moderate oven until tender. Just before serving place the tomatoes on the individual plates and pour over each of them two tablespoons of hot cream seasoned with salt and pepper. Sprinkle with minced parsley and serve hot on thin toast strips.

CAN A CITY BE TOO BIG?
Ambitious cities like Chicago, Detroit and Los Angeles, which at times have fondly dipped into the future and pictured themselves respectively, as the metropolises of America, must have got a distinct shock out of the census figures for New York.

New York, it develops, has been going ahead just as fast as these other towns. Its population now is just under 7,000,000. Its "metropolitan district" contains no less than 11,000,000 people—more than there are in the next seven largest cities in America put together.

So, while Chicago continues to grow, and Detroit comes forward to step on the heels of Philadelphia, and Los Angeles shoots past half a dozen cities to land in fifth place, New York retains its pre-eminence. It is still our metropolis, and it probably will hold that distinction for a long time.

For those of us who do not live in any of these cities, all of this is merely a matter of academic interest. Nevertheless, it is about time that we put our biggest cities under the microscope to see just what they signify. Does their bigness, in itself, make for a better life for their inhabitants? Does the New Yorker, who has 6,000,000 near neighbors, have a better time than the man from Akron, who has 250,000? Is it possible for a city to become too big?

It would take a great deal of study and a great many volumes of facts to answer these questions properly. Meanwhile, however, there are surface indications that are significant.

Traffic congestion in New York is, today, almost unendurable. In Chicago the situation is only slightly less bad. In cities like Detroit, Los Angeles and Cleveland it is more than bad enough.

Living condition, for enormous numbers of the inhabitants of these big cities, are unspeakable. If anything is certain it is that the lawless gangs of our great cities are bred by the congested, unhealthy circumstances under which thousands of children grow to manhood.

Politically, these super-cities are grotesquely unwieldy. The average New Yorker is completely at the mercy of Tammany Hall. The average Chicagoan is at the mercy of an even less admirable machine. In each case the sheer size of the city gives the machine ample opportunity to maintain its grip on government.

Those are only a few instances of what big population figures mean. It is almost time for the American people to look into the matter thoroughly and find out if the city whose population is almost stationary is not, perhaps, better off than the one whose population is doubling every two decades.

There can be such a thing as a city that is not too large for any earthly use. Now and then one can wonder if New York and Chicago, at least, have not reached that point. Living in Dixon is not so bad after all.

Berlin police, a news item says, will carry gas pistols which will render a foe unconscious. Women have been known to effect the same result without gas pistols.

A Bostonian paid $12,000 for a silver tea set belonging to the late Czar of Russia. He'll never reign, of course, but my how he'll pour!

Congress, a news item says, has appropriated $18,000 to eradicate the Florida sand fly. Who do they mean, Capone?

The farmers seem ready to acknowledge that the fellow who wrote "it ain't goin' to rain no more" was somewhat of a seer.

Now that roof-sitting endurance contests have begun, it will devolve upon future builders to make their roofs not only rainproof, but foolproof as well.

With an increasing number of students swimming the Hellespont each year, it won't be long now before they organize a creek-letter fraternity.

The fact Mr. and Mrs. Lindbergh have taken their first flight together since Charles, Jr., was born, leads to the suspicion the baby has already become an endurance cryer.

All that is necessary to cure the smoking habit, according to a Russian scientist, is to take three hypnotic treatments. It might work for a spell.

Two men posing as plumbers robbed a Chicago woman of several thousand dollars' worth of jewelry. To them the job was a pipe.

This age is marked by the perfection of machinery, but you wouldn't think so from the number of times those dial telephones give you the wrong number.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE BY AHERN

THE TINYMITES STORY BY HAL COCHRAN - PICTURES BY KING

While they were standing by the well, the Times heard wee Clowdy yell, "Hey, look at who is coming. What a funny man is he." The Times looked and what they saw just seemed to fill them all with awe. The man they watched walk to the well, was strong as he could be.

Upon his back there must have been 'bout 'orty cans, all made of tin. "Why don't they fall?" said Copsy. "Gee, at balancing he's fine!" The Travel Man then said, "That man's an expert with a water can. He very seldom drops one cause he keeps them all in line."

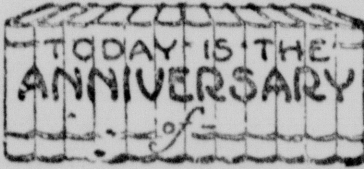

The cans were soon stacked 'round about the well. "Oh, gee, let's help him out," cried Copsy. "We can fill them up with water. He won't mind." The man looked up and said, "Why, say, I'm really rather tired today. If you will fill these cans up, I will think you're very kind."

And so the task was shortly done. The Times thought it heaps of fun. "Twil take me several trips to take them back," the man declared. "When full, I cannot take them all. They are too heavy and they'd fall." Said Clowdy, "My, I'll bet your back is glad that it is spared."

The Travel Man soon said, "Well, we must move along so we can see some other sights. What say we take a plane ride through the air? The flying field's not far away. For some new place we'll start today." And so they started hiking and the whole bunch soon were there.

The Travel Man arranged so they could soon be on their merry way. Before they left, however, all the Times looked around, and eyed the plane from tail to nose. Said Scouty, "Think how fast this goes. And we will soon be in it. My, I wonder where we're bound."

THE PANAMA CANAL
On Aug. 15, 1914, the Panama Canal, the ship canal across the isthmus of Panama connecting the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, was opened to commercial traffic by the passage of the government steamship Ancon, carrying the Secretary of War and 200 guests. The passage was made in nine hours and 40 minutes. From that time the canal has been opened to general traffic, except when the slides at Culebra hill and at Cucaracha have interrupted navigation. At the end of the first year 1317 ocean-going vessels passed through the canal paying in tolls $5,216,149. The tolls were established by the president at the rate of $1.20 per net vessel ton for loaded vessels.

The canal is 50 miles long and cost about $4,000,000 to build. The engineer to whom greatest credit is due for the success in its construction is Col. George W. Goethals. Both Col. Goethals and Col. William C. Gorgas, through whose work in sanitation improvements on the Isthmus it was possible to construct the canal under favorable health conditions, were raised to the rank of major-general in recognition of their services.

Daily Health Talk
AX OUT OF LAXATIVES
BY GORDON ABBOTT, M. D.
Elgin, Ill.

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. The headquarters of the Institute are at 1341 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

Nine thousand persons were murdered in the United States in 1928. During the same year, almost 12,000 died because they were given or took laxatives in the presence of abdominal pain.

Pain warns but it also protects; it is to the body what the red light is to traffic. Abdominal pain means nothing until you have consulted a physician—do not give castor oil, calomel, citrate of magnesia, epsom or rochelle salt, or any other laxative before calling a physician. Printed on the labels of the foregoing should be the words "to be taken only in the absence of abdominal pain."

Do not attempt to diagnose; even a physician may make mistakes and he frequently does so because of what you have done before he arrives.

At the present time we are continuously and advisedly warned about the increase in deaths from cancer, but four times as many persons die from appendicitis as from cancer during the productive period of their lives—before the age of 50.

Judicious advertising regarding the use and abuse of laxatives will save hundreds of lives and they will be saved when they mean most to their family, the community and the nation.

Do your bit. Tell your husband or wife. Warn your friends or neighbors. Ask your druggist to post a warning. Arrange for your family physician to speak before your community clubs. Save a Life.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS GREAT RACE OF CENTURY CARD FOR TOMORROW

All Turf Fans are Interested in Gallant Fox-
Which one Event

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
New York, Aug. 15.—(AP)—The turf's "Battle of the Century" takes place at picturesque Saratoga Springs tomorrow when Henry Payne Whitney's Whicome attempts to wrest the three-year-old title from William Woodward's Gallant Fox.
Unbeaten in six starts this year, the Fox, with the ever alert Earl Sande up, probably will go to the post the 4 to 5 choice but there will be plenty of 11 to 10 and 6 to 5 money on the Whitney flash and his sensational jockey, Sonny Workman, when the field of four or less parades to the barrier at about 6
P. M. EST.

Once before this season in the Belmont Stakes the big red colt from the Woodward barns and his arch rival met but the Fox was far the best, winning the mile and a half jaunt by four lengths. Supporters of the Whitney light blue and brown topped colors are claiming, however, that the son of Chic-flying Witch is a 30 per cent better colt than when he first met the champion.

Ground For Belief Incidentally the backers of Which-one have plenty of ground for their belief. The colt has come up to the Travers in a sensational manner that bespeaks one of the greatest races in the history of American turf tomorrow. As a trial for his supreme test, Whicome has been sent out three times in the past two weeks and won all three races handily.

In contrast Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, trainer of Gallant Fox, has sent his famous charge only through workouts in the morning but they have been trials that has set all turfdom to talking. A mile and a quarter in 2:04 2-5 with 131 pounds aboard was the Fox's latest answer to the Whicome claim.

The expected duel between Gallant Fox and Whicome has completely overshadowed the remainder of the field, if there is such a thing.
Eighty-one other three-year-olds are eligible for the $30,000 purse but nobody seems to know which will start and nobody cares.

Baseball Gossip

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Unless today's final clash of the "decisive" series between Brooklyn and Chicago finally brings something like a decision, it looks as if their race for the National League pennant might continue indefinitely, or at least until they meet again in September. Despite the big margin they hold over the Robins in their season's play, the Cubs have not been able to get far ahead in the three games of their current series.
Chicago has won two clashes and went one full game ahead yesterday as Pat Malone pitched a fine game for a 5 to 1 Cub triumph. But still the big advantage for the Bruins is that the difference is in the losing column where Brooklyn is two games to the bad. The future schedules show little possibility of a "break" for either team.

The Cubs, held in check to some degree through the second game, were completely superior yesterday as Malone stopped the thunder of Brooklyn's big bats. They went out ahead in the very first inning and did all their scoring in the first three to win without much difficulty. Bill Clark, Brooklyn's southpaw ace, lasted less than two innings and Dudley could not check the Cub slugging until the damage had been done. Malone, his speedball working at its best clip, gave the Robins only three hits in the first six innings and had a shutout in hand until two were out in the ninth, when a Cub letup let the only Brooklyn run across the plate.

With four teams idle from rain and wet grounds, the National League as a whole made little progress yesterday. The St. Louis Cardinals and Boston Braves divided a close double header that was principally notable for the appearance of some of the league's older pitchers. Socks Seibold lost a tough struggle in the first game as the Cards put on a two run rally in the ninth to win, 4 to 3. Although outlived, 11-9, in the second, old Tom Zachary outlasted Burleigh Grimes and held St. Louis to six hits while the Braves pulled out a 3 to 2 triumph. The Card winning streak went to six games before it was broken in the second game.

In the American League, Cleveland came back from five straight defeats to pound out a 15 to 0 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics.

Earl Whitehill won his tenth successive game, setting a major league record for the season, as the Detroit Tigers beat the New York Yankees,

ROBBIE CROSSED SELF
Chicago, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Uncle Wilbert Robinson, manager of the Brooklyn Robins, long ago decided that southpaws would not do against the Cubs, and having verified this opinion yesterday, had Senor Adolfo Luque as his selection for the final game of the "crucial" series today.
Against his better judgment, Uncle Wilbert yesterday sent out William Watson Clark his premier left-hander, against the National League champions, with the result that Clark was batted from the box, and Brooklyn suffered a 5 to 1 setback, and today was a game out of first place. Percy Malone gave only eight hits, and none of them did any good until the Cubs let up in the ninth and virtually gave the Robins their single tally.

Manager Joe McCarthy today had Charlie Root, his veteran right-hander, and young Malcolm Moss, the southpaw who has won five straight, as his possibilities today.
Regardless of the outcome of today's engagement, Brooklyn will leave Chicago in second place. A victory would place the Flatbush club within percentage points of the Cubs, but no more than that.

CARLSON'S LOSS BLOW
Chicago, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Manager
Joe McCarthy believes his Cubs would have had their second straight National League championship snatched some time since, had it not been for the death of Pitcher Hal Carlson, early in the season.
"It was a blow from which the team hasn't yet recovered," McCarthy said yesterday. "Had Hal lived we would have had the pennant won by this time. When I needed a game, I just had to tell him 'go in today and get this one.'"

SUMMER SHORTS FOR SUMMER SPORTS!

Dainty Laura Lee Shows The Correct Garb For Wear On Various Occasions

Some are wearing summer shorts for summer sports and some are not (but you can't repeat that line three times, real fast, and not stutter!), but petite Laura Lee of the movies, shown here, has a complete outfit for every occasion. Just to be different, however, Laura wears pajamas on the beach, but when she putters around at golf, goes for a spin in the clouds or plays tennis she always dons the correct costume for the particular sport. Speaking of tennis, if we played Laura, our score would be "love"—and yours?

TWENTY FATHERS, SONS, DAUGHTERS IN GOLF TOURNEY

Event At Dixon Country Club Wednesday Of Fine Enjoyment

Twenty fathers and their sons or daughters enjoyed the second annual golf tournament held at the Dixon Country Club Wednesday. The weather was ideal and the participants all enjoyed an extremely delightful day. Quite a number of spectators were present and followed a number of the players at different times during the day.

The tournament is designated as a two ball foursome, the players being divided into foursomes with alternate shots between father and son-daughter, and the scoring is medal play for 36 holes with handicaps applying.

At the conclusion of the match a very excellent fried chicken banquet was tendered by the committee to the participants of the day, after which came the awarding of prizes and opportune short talks were given by O. M. Rogers, president of the association; Dr. Wright of DeKalb, A.
H. Holcomb of Sycamore and Judge
H. C. Ward of Sterling. E. B. Raymond, Secretary and Treasurer of the Association, presided at the banquet and he with the assistance of ed to the business of conducting the tournament throughout the day.

Old Roman Comiskey Has Birthday Today

Chicago, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Charles A. Comiskey, the Old Roman of the baseball wars, today looked back on 70 years of life and 54 years of the national game.
At his summer home at Eagle River, Wis., Comiskey celebrated his seventy-first birthday with his son, J.
Louis Comiskey, the latter's wife and their two children, hopeful that his youthful Chicago White Sox would give him a victory over the world champion Philadelphia Athletics at Philadelphia.

The Old Roman, the only major league club owner to reach his position from the ranks of the players, has spent most of the last several years in Wisconsin because of poor health, but has maintained an eager interest in baseball affairs. The Sox have done little since the 1919 team was wrecked in the world series scandal, but this year, Comiskey engaged Donie Bush as manager and started to build again.

Bush has made wholesale revisions in the club, largely in the way of getting young players to develop for the future and Comiskey already is look-

SOX MAKE BIG OFFER FOR OLD JOSEPH HAUSER

Would Give $75,000
And Bud Clancy For Baltimore's Slugger

Washington, Aug. 15.—(U.P.)—The Chicago White Sox have offered the Baltimore International League Club
$50,000 in cash and first Baseman
Bud Clancy in exchange for Joe Hauser, the Orioles' slugging first baseman, Secretary Lou Barbour of the White Sox announced here today.

No word has been received from Baltimore concerning the proposed deal, Barbour said.

Hauser, a veteran who was one of the American League's star sluggers a half-dozen years ago, has broken one International League record this year and apparently is on his way to several others. Old Joe already has fifty-four home runs to his credit, needing but seven more to break Babe Ruth's American League record. In addition, he had batted in 153 runs up to yesterday.

The veteran's best work in the big league was done with the Athletics prior to 1925 when he suffered a severe knee injury in spring training. He was out of the game all that season and was unable to regain his stride the following year, being sent to Kansas City in the American Association. After a great season there in 1927, he was given another chance by Connie Mack, but again failed to show his old ability.

Hauser came to the Orioles from Cleveland, having been acquired by the Indians on waivers.

pugilists, who traded punches with

Wilson Likes Smith to Hit His Homers

Chicago, Aug. 15.—(AP)—In collecting 40 home runs so far this season Hack Wilson of the Cubs has found Pitcher Bob Smith of Boston to be his favorite server.

Wilson has picked on Smith for four of his homers, while other members of the Brave pitching staff have suffered enough to make their litteral contribution eight for the season.

Next to Smith the "Dempsey of the Dugouts" likes Wild Bill Hallahan of St. Louis, who has thrown him three home run balls. Dazzy Vance and Ray Phelps of Brooklyn; Claude Willoughby and Phil Collins of the Phillies and Tiny Chaplin of the Giants, all have been rocked twice by Hack's home run bat.

Fifteen of Wilson's league leading collection have been scored on foreign diamonds.

Donoho Champion Of Camp Welters

Vernon Donoho, member of Com-

De Weto, champion of the 131st Infantry at Camp Grant last evening in a fast four round bout. This victory gave Donoho the championship in the welterweight division of the camp. Donoho's showing during his stay in Camp Grant has been very successful and as the result he has been matched to meet Jimmie Santlo of Chicago in Rock-test the real strength of the local boxer and his opponent has won all of his last ten bouts.

McNally Buys More Stock In N. Y. Club

Sayville, N. Y., Aug. 15.—(UP)—Joseph M. McNally, wealthy New York building contractor, has announced that through stock owned by himself and close friends he now controlled 30 per cent of the stock of the New York National League baseball club.
McNally, known as the "King of the Bricklayers," and an old-time semi-professional ball player, said that he had been a stockholder in the club for some time, owning about the same amount of stock as John McGraw, manager of the club.

His latest acquisition, amounting to 20 per cent of the outstanding stock, was purchased from William F. Kenney, millionaire friend of former Governor Alfred E. Smith, McNally said.

INSECT DAMAGE TO GRAINS CAN BE PREVENTED

The Chief Entomologist Of Natural History
Survey Says

Urbana, Ill.—(A.P.)—Millions of dollars which farmers of the United States annually lose as a result of insect damage to stored grains can now be saved by a single and cheap method of treatment, it was claimed today by W. P. Flint, chief entomologist of the State Natural History Survey.

The treatment was worked out in two years of cooperative experiments by the Survey and the experiment state of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. C. O. Mohr assisted Flint in the work.

Materials used in the treatment are certain of the so-called lubricating oil emulsions, miscible oils or summer oil emulsions, all of which have been developed primarily for the spraying of fruit trees. The tests were made with corn, the ears being dipped into the liquids. Both treated and untreated ears were then stored under conditions where corn insects were excessively in abundance.

In five series of tests, each extending over at least a six month period, the treated corn was almost completely protected against injury by the insects. Bermination tests later showed that the treated corn grew as well as the untreated. Feeding tests of the treated corn on white rats have shown no injurious effects from the treatment.

For many centuries man has been storing grain for his own use and then sharing it with insects, Flint pointed out. Even with all the preventative that have heretofore been worked out, the measurable loss constantly runs above the one million dollar mark in single states and into several millions in each of the southern states, he reported.

The new method developed in the Illinois tests is superior for many situations means developed in the past, including special storage bins, fumigation and heat treatment, Flint said. Conditions under which the tests were made were as severe as possible, the treated and untreated corn being stored for five months in rooms where the Angoumois grain moth, the rice weevil, granary weevil, Indian meal moth, confused flour beetle and saw-toothed grain beetle were excessively abundant.

Corn treated with homemade lubricating oil emulsion used in the proportion of 1 part of oil to 8 of water and 9 per cent of the kernels injured by the insects. Corn treated with a commercial summer oil spray in the proportion of 1 part of oil to 10 of water had 3 per cent of the grains infested. Corn treated with another commercial spray oil that was used in the proportion of 1 to 10 had five-tenths of 1 per cent of the kernels injured. Unprotected corn stored in the same room under the same conditions had 100 per cent of grains injured.

"The experiments have not been carried through to the point where final recommendations can be made, but the results to date indicate that the method bids fair to reduce by many millions of dollars the present insect damage to stored grain, especially in the southern part of the United States," Flint said.

Man, Out Of Work, Stole Food, Shot

Toledo, O. Aug. 14.—(A.P.)—Victims of "hard times," Elmer Tilton, 45, and his son, Louis, 17, were shot to death on a farm near here early today, while stealing potatoes to provide food for the elder Tilton's wife and six other children. The head of the family had been out of work seven months.

The father and son were shot by Lester Coy, 23, whose father is blind, and who has been farming single handed, with the additional handicap of frequent losses by crop thieves. After working all day young Coy had found it necessary to stay up nights to guard his crops. He was on guard with a gun when the Tiltsons appeared.

PRODUCTION OF MILK IN LEE CO. BETTER IN JULY

Report Of Herd Improvement Association Is Given To Public

Amboy, Ill.—An increase of production in July over June was made by James Morrissey in the Lee county Dairy Herd Improvement Association from 37.1 pounds of fat from nine P. B. Holsteins to 42.3 pounds of fat by night pasturing. No fresh cows were added to the herd.

Nine members of the association are watering, spraying and stabling their herds at 300 P. M. each day, and a decided increase in production is noted. There were 431 cows tested, the average being 689 pounds of milk and 25.8 pounds of fat from the 42 herds. Six unprofitable cows were sold and 61 cows produced more than 40 pounds of fat during July.

Holly Smith took first place with his herd of 14 G. and P. B. Holsteins with a twice a day feeding and an average of 1306 pounds of milk and 42.4 pounds of fat. J. Morrissey fell behind by 1 pound of fat securing the same amount of milk and 42.3 pounds of fat. Carl Degner's herd averaged 1252 pounds of milk and 41.9 fat.

High cows belonged to Holly Smith G. H. 2167 milk, 67.2 fat; James Morrissey P. B. H. 2167 milk 65 fat; Bowden Jesse P. B. Jesse P. B. Jersey, 1159 milk, 60.3 fat; Holly Smith G. H. 1739 milk and 57.4 fat. C. C. Reed and Joe Nicholson tied for fifth place each averaging 55.8 pounds of fat.

Short pastures, hot weather and flies have combined to lower records the past month. Members with silos containing several doors of silage have been fortunate. Some hay is being fed. Advance in corn prices has made the substitution of barley for corn advisable in lowering feed costs in some instances. Red clover and alfalfa pasture have withstood the summer's growth best.

PURITAN MALT —it's different

It takes more than the best select barley and hops to make a product as good as Puritan.

Only by the remarkable "Controlled Temperature Process" can such uniformity be obtained—quality and goodness the same a year from now as today.

And—if you want quantity as well as quality, you'll appreciate the 10% more than most competing brands offer.

Today—ask your dealer for Puritan.

Here's the reason
every can of HILLS BROS COFFEE
is so fresh

AS FAST as Hills Bros. Coffee comes from the roasters which produce the famous flavor, it is packed in vacuum cans. By this process, air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is taken out of the can and kept out. No air-tight can will keep coffee fresh. Hills Bros.' vacuum can is easily opened with the key.

Controlled Roasting gives Hills Bros. Coffee a flavor no other coffee has.

STATE FAIR TO OPEN SATURDAY FOR WEEKS SHOW

Veterans Of All Wars Will Be Guests At Opening Day

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 14—(U.P.)—Day and night fireworks and an entertainment program together with competitive drills and band contests will feature the opening day Saturday of the Illinois State Fair, according to an announcement of the completed program here today. Veterans of all wars will be guests of the fair management.

Drum and bugle corps, drill teams, bands, and other units, entered by the military organizations from all sections of the state, will participate in the day's program. The various units will "strut their stuff" before the grandstand and Governor L. L. Emmerson and his guests who will be seated on a reviewing platform. Following preliminary events which will be staged throughout the afternoon, the best teams in each section will compete at night for championship honors and prizes which will be awarded.

Practically all of the exhibits have been completed and are in place for the opening of the exposition tomorrow. The gates will open at 6 A. M.

The livestock entries will set a new fair record. Numbered among the list of entries are some of the finest stock in the world, having been shipped here from all parts of this country and Canada.

Fifty counties will be represented in the State Fair health contest for members of Four H Clubs, which will get underway Saturday. The clubs, with the aid of local physicians, are selecting one boy and one girl to enter tests for state supremacy. The winners in the state contest will represent Illinois in the national Four H Club Congress in Chicago early in December.

KINGDOM KNOTES

KINGDOM—Mrs. H. W. Stevens, who has been spending several days at the home of Mrs. W. I. Floto, returned to her home in Dixon.

Robert and Edward Whitney are visiting at the home of their aunt, Mrs. Myrtle Withron in Geneseo.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Forbear from Chicago were Sunday guests at the George Gronewold home. Mrs. Gronewold spent the first of the week in Chicago visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Floto and daughters have returned to their home in Beloit after spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Floto.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Smith and sons from Franklin Grove spent a few days last week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gates.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Robinson from State Center came Tuesday to attend the funeral of her brother, Will Floto.

Ready for Hop Across Atlantic

From Los Angeles to New York and across the Atlantic to their home town of Budapest, Hungary, is the flight to be attempted by Captain Alexander Magyar, left, and Lieutenant George Endres, shown here with their new plane in Los Angeles. They announced they would make the hop late in August.

Here personality Mr. Floto has won a great many friends all of whom join at this time with the immediate family in sharing their sorrow.

Mr. Floto will be greatly missed in his home, his church and the community but mostly in the home with whom he associated there.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday at the Kingdom church, which was filled to overflowing with friends and relatives, the floral pieces well spoke of the esteem the departed was held in. The services were in charge of his pastor, Rev. R. R. Heidenreich, assisted by Rev. Cleaver of the Christian church of Dixon. Two songs were sung by the quartette, George Gates, Ernest and Frank Floto and John Morris, assisted on the organ by Mrs. Elmer Rice. "There's a Beautiful Land," and "The Old Rugged Cross." Pall bearers were nephews of Mr. Floto's, George Floto, Ivan Floto, Clarence Floto, Elwood Hintz, Roy Brink and Lewis Gorton.

Rev. Cleaver read the 15th Psalm and based his remarks on John 4:38, "Other men labored and ye are entered into their labors."

In his life he had achieved much, a good home, a good reputation, a good name and referred his life to the children of the home to follow. "He was a real man," Rev. Heidenreich chose for his text the latter part of verse 12 in second Timothy where Paul is writing to Timothy.

"For I know whom I have believed and am persuaded that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him against that day," and Romans 8:28 and "We know that all things work together for good to them that love God." Also 2 Cor. 5:1 where Paul again writes to the Corinthians "For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle, doubt his faith, the matter was settled between him and his God. He was a regular attendant at the church he loved when health permitted, he was a good neighbor and a friend to all. The pastor closed his fitting remarks with a poem. Good morning up there where cometh no night Good morning up there where Christ is the light When we pass from this earth to yon heaven so fair We'll say good night here but good morning up there.

NO, I WON'T TAKE IT. THE PRICE IS MUCH TOO HIGH.

LADY! NO-WHERE IN THE CITY OF HONG-KONG WILL YOU FIND ANOTHER SUCH BARGAIN.

IN THE FORTIES, RIGHT AFTER THE OPIUM WAR.

WHEN DID THE JAPANESE ACQUIRE HONG KONG, MULLS?

There are at least four mistakes in the above picture. They may pertain to grammar, history, etiquette, drawing or whatnot. See if you can find them. Then look at the scrambled word below—and unscramble it, by switching the letters around. Grade yourself 20 for each of the mistakes you find, and 20 for the word if you unscramble it. Tomorrow we'll explain the mistake and tell you the word. Then you can see how near a hundred you beat.

THURSDAY'S CORRECTIONS

(1) The man at the left should say tremblers, instead of "tremblers." (2) The island of Sicily, which is at the lower extremity of Italy, is missing from the map. (3) The reflector on the hanging lamp is upside down. (4) The man at the right is wrong in saying earthquakes are frequent in England. They are rare! (5) The scrambled word is CANNIBAL.

The Hollywood Story

COPYRIGHT 1930

by NEA SERVICE Inc.

by ERNEST LYNN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DAN RORIMER, temperamental young man of Hollywood, can't get along with the studio managers at Continental Pictures and tears up his contract as scenario writer and asks to be fired. But he isn't. Dan has become keenly interested in ANNE WINTER, a young girl from Tulsa, Okla., who is working as an extra. She has had stage experience, and she knows enough to warrant a screen test at Grand United studios.

Rorimer, former newspaper man from New York, lives with PAUL COLLIER, who writes a daily movie column for a string of newspapers. Anne lives with MONA SLOAN and EVA HARLEY, two extra girls. Eva is rather bitter. She does not get enough work to make a living, and Dan suspects that there may be some sort of tragedy in her life.

GARRY SLOAN, famous Hollywood director, has shown some interest in Anne Winter, although hardly enough for her to warrant any high hopes. Dan does not care much for Sloan; he is an admirer, however, of MARTIN COLLINS, formerly of Continental, now with Amalgamated. Collins invites him and Anne to a housewarming at his home. Dan and Collier take Eva and Sloan out one evening. They go to a public dance hall.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVI

THE dance floor was a vast place. Paul Collier had described it as being "a couple of acres" in area, and Dan told him he had only mildly exaggerated.

There was a sprinkling of sailors, dancing or lounging in chairs near the soda fountain. "The fleet's not in," Collier explained to Mona and Eva, "or you'd see enough of them to man a battleship."

They remained there for a couple of hours of dancing and watching others dance. The orchestra played with unwearied frequency and there were the inevitable few couples trying to show off. Their exaggerated grotesque maneuvers were vastly entertaining to Collier. He laughed a great deal and declared that it was more fun than a show.

Mona said it reminded her of some of the places she had been to in Chicago. "You know, where the dance tickets sell for ten cents apiece. I was just a kid then. Gee, it makes me homesick."

Collier laughed at her. "Just a kid, did you say?" And Mona made a face.

It was after midnight when they got back to the bungalow, and Anne was waiting up. Rorimer knew a queer feeling of guilt, as though he had been spying on her, when she informed him that she had been out to dinner with Mr. Hurley.

"We went to the Montmartre," she said.

Dan managed to get her aside and tell her of the invitation to Martin Collins' party. "He's a real person, Anne; you'd better come."

SHE said she would be glad to go. "Did Mona tell you I tried to reach you on the phone this evening?"

Dan nodded. "She told me the good news too. I'm mighty glad. How did your voice sound to you? You heard it, of course."

"It sounded—" Anne stopped, and she laughed. "You'll think me conceited, Dan. It sounded—good. I'm so thrilled I hardly know where I am. Mr. Hurley said that when he heard the play-back he decided he was going to let me have a song. . . . Dan, I can hardly believe it! I didn't think I'd dare to try to sing!"

Collier laughed at her. "You're something very nice, Paul."

"Nothing tough about that," said Collier, and he picked up his hat and grabbed Dan by the arm. "Come on, give the girls a break and let them get some sleep."

Driving homeward, Dan told Collier that he soon might have his opportunity to carry a story about Anne in his column. "Hurley told her he's going to give her a song, and she'll probably have a dance with it. When it's all set you might give the little girl a big break."

Collier agreed. "Though I'll bet

"Your friend is not a bit hard on the eyes. Where have you been hiding her all this time?"

Anne Winter's dark eyes shone with excitement.

He looked at her gravely, holding her sparkling eyes with his own. "I wasn't fooling," he told her, "when I said there was something in your voice that would get them. You've got something, Anne."

"You mean my singing, Dan?"

"Everything," he assured her, and Anne smilingly told him that that made her feel better.

"Because I'd be awfully disappointed if they just wanted me to sing and dance. After all, you see, I came out here with certain pretensions to being an actress. And I hope to be given a chance to act."

"You should worry about what kind of a ladder they give you to climb," Dan said. "You're bound for the top, Anne. . . . Isn't that right, Paul?"

Collier laughed caustically. "Every time I turn around I hear Sloan, Sloan! You'd think the man was a god or something. There are other directors in Hollywood. I'd be willing to stack Martin Collins up against him, for instance."

"Collins is good, all right," Paul agreed. "But he's no Garry Sloan—not yet. . . . What the devil," he demanded, turning on Rorimer, "have you got against Sloan, anyway? You've never even met the man. I think, by God, that you're afraid he'd eat Anne Winter up, or something, if he took a shine to her? Don't be a sap; that girl can take care of herself."

Dan drove a short stretch in silence. He said, presently: "Let's stop in Henry's for a cup of coffee."

"And a piece of egg-nog pie," Collier agreed. "Though I'll bet

Paul nodded. "You bet your life."

Dan continued: "She sure deserves it if anybody does. I'm tickled to death that she's made such a hit with Hurley."

"Hurley's a bachelor, Dan. Aren't you jealous?" Collier grinned.

"Maybe I'd better look into that," said Dan.

"YOU'D better." More seriously, he added that Hurley probably could do a lot for Anne Winter. "And nobody gets a bigger kick out of pushing a gal along. He's a good egg—a real white man. Anne's lucky; Garry Sloan gives her a bit and—"

He stopped. "What a break if Sloan should really get interested in her!" he exclaimed softly.

"Sloan, the star maker, eh?" Rorimer laughed caustically. "Every time I turn around I hear Sloan, Sloan! You'd think the man was a god or something. There are other directors in Hollywood. I'd be willing to stack Martin Collins up against him, for instance."

"Collins is good, all right," Paul agreed. "But he's no Garry Sloan—not yet. . . . What the devil," he demanded, turning on Rorimer, "have you got against Sloan, anyway? You've never even met the man. I think, by God, that you're afraid he'd eat Anne Winter up, or something, if he took a shine to her? Don't be a sap; that girl can take care of herself."

KONJOLA ENDS RHEUMATISM AND OTHER AILMENTS

Peoria Man Enthusiastic—
"Can Recommend New Medicine," he says—
Finds Quick Relief.

MR. ANTONE BRUNO
Results are what count, and Konjola can be counted on for results. That is why Konjola is a household word in tens of thousands of American homes. Take, as an example of Konjola at work the case of Mr. Antone Bruno, 130 Chicago street, Peoria, who declares:
"I suffered with rheumatism, stomach trouble and constipation for six years. My arms and legs pained me constantly, and I could not sleep. Not a thing I tried helped me, and then I tried Konjola. Today my rheumatism is greatly improved; I sleep better and my food digests without gas accumulation or abdominal pains. I surely can recommend this new medicine."
Konjola does work quickly, yet a complete treatment of from six to eight bottles is strongly recommended for best results.
"Konjola is sold and recommended by all the better drug stores in Dixon, Illinois and throughout this section."

Alleged Dope Kings Held at Capital

Accused of being two of the biggest peddlers of narcotics in the east, Pete de Agostina, left, and Joe Anzellone, center, are pictured above as they were returned to their cells in District of Columbia jail, Washington, after failing to give $20,000 bond. With two other men and a woman, they have been ordered held for the grand jury by United States Commissioner Turnage. At the right is Deputy Marshal Gus Ceremille.

NEWS of the CHURCHES
GOOD THOUGHTS
Just as in a material foundation proper timbers must be used and trustworthy ones eliminated, so for its spiritual foundation humanity is discovering that, if it wishes a mental house in which to find true satisfaction, it must similarly give careful attention to utilizing therein only qualities that make for a truly Christian character.
—The Christian Science Monitor.
To make money, to win academic degrees, to lead political armies, and not to live up and down, right and left, is to have missed success. Men suspect it now. They will know it by and by.
—Mal'bie Babcock
He that does as well in private before God and his own soul as in public, hath given himself a testimony that his purposes are full of honesty, nobleness, and integrity.
—Jeremy Taylor
The greatest man is he who chooses the right with invincible resolution, who resists sorest temptations from within and without, who bears the heaviest burdens cheerfully... whose reliance on truth, on virtue, on God, is most unflinching.
—Channing

Aviatrix Adds Two Records In Loop

St. Louis, Aug. 14—(AP)—Miss Laura Ingalls, 25-year-old New York flier, today had added two new records to her collection of aviation achievements. And one of them she took away from a man.
Flying over Lambert-St. Louis Field yesterday, Miss Ingalls completed 714 consecutive barrel rolls, 297 more than the previous men's record, which Dale Jackson held, and 647 more than the previous women's record, which Mrs. Betty Lund held. Five official observers watched Miss Ingalls' flight and counted the rolls.
Taking the air at 3:50 P. M. (CTS) Miss Ingalls landed 3 hours and 3 minutes later.
"How many did I make," she asked as ground observers swarmed about her plane to congratulate her, "about 500?"
"I did it," was her first comment when told she had made 714 consecutive rolls. Well, I thought it was only about 500. Towards the end it began to get dark and I thought my wings were getting wobbly." An examination of the plane, a D. H. Wasp moth biplane, however, disclosed the wings were as secure as ever.
"I didn't get tired at all," Miss Ingalls told reporters. "It was like getting your second wind. After the first hour I had more power than at the start."
